The Jewish Dental Clinic, a project of the Alpha Omega Detroit Alumni Chapter, was featured in a Special Report in the Detroit Jewish News and was the Cover Story in a recent edition. All members of the Alumni Chapter should be very proud, but especially those volunteers that have contributed to the success of this worthy endeavor.

Alpha Omega Returns to the COMEDY CASTLE with headliner, TOM SIMMONS

“I’m a likable misanthrope, a contrarian who believes we are doing it all wrong. And it’s just fun pointing that out through jokes”, says Simmons about his motivation. Over the years, he has earned himself a ton of respect from other comedians and his audience alike for his originality and depth.

Also appearing: JEFF DWOSKIN

Saturday, January 15, 2011 at 8pm

MARK RIDLEY’S COMEDY CASTLE

$15 per person  Guests Welcome  Limited number of tickets

310 S. Troy Street, Royal Oak  248-542-9900
Take 11 Mile Rd. East past Woodward to S. Main St. Turn Right (South) to East Fourth St. Turn Left. Parking available at the NW corner of East Fourth and Williams Street

HOSTLESS DINNER at the PEKING HOUSE

At 5:30 pm, join AO’s and guests for dinner at the Peking House 215 S. Washington, Royal Oak

Mail Check to Gail by January 10, 2011; PO Box 251304; W Bloomfield, MI 48325
I hope everyone has enjoyed the break in the weather that we’ve had during our fall. As this newsletter arrives, I’m sure the cold will have taken hold of our lives. Brrrrrr. On a brighter note, Fran & I hope you all had a wonderful Thanksgiving. It’s the time of year when we should take note of the good things in life we have: family, friends, health (I hope), and being part of a great profession, including belonging to Alpha Omega. We should never take any of this for granted. Life is fragile and in a matter of seconds all that we love can be gone.

As for Alpha Omega, our organization stands tall and is strong throughout the world. Detroit remains one of the strongest chapters because our members choose to make it so. We have had the first of our Sunday morning CE programs on Nov 14th when Scott Ross of Core Financial and four of his compatriots presented a most interesting program on “The Business of Dentistry.” Much very beneficial information was presented that directly and indirectly affects each of us at all phases of our practice. If you missed it, please call me and I’ll be happy to get you an update on the information presented. Better yet, be sure to attend the five CE sessions to come. Our next one is Sunday, Jan 23rd, to be presented by Michael Addor, Advanced Planning Specialist, Hantz Financial Services and Rachel A. Doxsie, Attorney At Law Shea, Aiello, Doxsie, Coraci & Gursel, PLLC who will speak on Understanding Retirement Social Security & Estate Planning-Strategies for the Small Business Owner.

On Nov 18th, Chi Chapter had its annual Alumni-Faculty dinner at Weber’s Inn in Ann Arbor. It was another outstanding event where students, alumni, and faculty have a very cordial evening in a social environment where dentistry shines. It’s always impressive to have professors from the University join us to break bread and discuss issues important to our students. Thanks to Chi Chapter President Adam Garfinkle for helping make this event a success.

On Nov 20th, AN Chapter had its Initiation dinner at Kruse and Muer in Troy. Amazingly, AN will have 23 new members join AO. Jamie Feldman and I conducted the initiation where we presented pins to our new members. Thanks to AN President Jon Blatt for making this event a success.

Earlier on Nov 20th our Detroit Alumni Chapter again participated in SOSS (Special Olympics Special Smiles) in Lansing. Nine fraters (Jamie Feldman, Bob Share, Alan Warnick, Nadine and Jeff Eder, Sam Zwetchkenbaum, Ester Sleutelberg. Mike—our chair—and me) along with dental hygiene students from Baker College, AO students from AN and Chi, and students from Chi, Los Angeles, and Chi, San Diego. This is likely my last article as Regent. It has been an honor to serve in this capacity. A large part of it has been working with the students of Alpha Nu and Chi and that has been particularly enjoyable. Both student chapters are doing well with leadership, membership and solid programming. The relationship between the Alumni Chapter and the Student Chapters remains excellent.

Soon, Mike Shapiro will become our new Regent. Certainly, he has proven to be exceedingly capable in every role he has assumed. This transition will be interesting, as the position of Regent will change. The position has been a local appointment the last few years. At this convention in San Diego, it should again become an International position. This will allow for a greater emphasis in connecting individual local chapters with the activities of Alpha Omega on a global basis.

Of course, I will remain involved with AO by doing the webpage, working with Bob Lavine on the design and layout of the newsletter, photos, and assisting Mike anyway possible. President Marv Sonne can count on me in whatever capacity is needed and I won’t forget our executive secretary, Gail, and the occasional tech support or graphic design of flyers.

I would be remiss to not mention the importance of Gail Halsted to our chapter. She not only made my job easier; but has facilitated and assisted in almost every function, event and task of the Detroit Alumni Chapter. Her affable personality and energy bring vibrancy to every job. Thank you Gail, it is always a pleasure to work with you.

Excitement and anticipation is always in the air as the AO International Convention draws near. This year, my emotions are tempered with a heavy heart as I recently lost my mom, Doris Feldman. It is difficult to think of convention and not think about my mother. After all, she with my father took me to my first convention when I was only two and so many after that. The love of these wonderful galas was instilled in me. We were an AO family.

Manny and Doris loved the conventions, the friends, the activities and events and even the work. Despite some reticence, I still look forward to this convention in San Diego. There are many reasons, but above all else, I know that I will receive the love, compassion and support from my international AO family just as I have from many of you.

You have been there with your presence, your notes and messages and your contributions to honor my mother. My sister, Terri Feldman, and I thank you… there is nothing like AO.

Fraternally,
Jamie Feldman

continued on page 4
On December 4, 2009, the Alpha Nu Chapter of Alpha Omega at the University of Detroit-Mercy initiated 13 new members. With eight other initiates, it is the largest class in several years and indicative of the growing vitality of the chapter. Under the effective guidance of President Jon Blatt, there continues to be energy and activity. The chapter is clearly growing.

Right: Detroit Alumni President Marv Sonne addresses the student dinner. Below: New Alpha Nu members.

The 2010 Rush event kicked off with a Lunch and Learn about Alpha Omega. Adam Garfinkle presented our AO history and what we are all about. Chi’s own Jonathan Miller, International Student Foundation Representative explained the opportunities for involvement with the organization on a local and international level. Of course, the pizza was something all hungry dental students appreciate at lunchtime.

In September, AO sponsored a Happy Hour at Bar Louie, another all-time favorite for hungry and thirsty dental students. It has been an annual event held for prospective fraters to mix, mingle and munch with upperclassmen members.

Our rush season ended with an evening of whirlyball... think lacrosse in bumper cars. It’s the event people look forward to most every year. Old and new members, and even Dr. Sol Pesis, Avi’s father enthusiastically competed for the MVP of whirlyball.

Thursday, November 18th was Chi’s Annual Faculty-Alumni Dinner at Weber’s Inn. As always, it was a nice way to get to know some of our school’s faculty members in a more relaxed, less academic atmosphere. Faculty members were very appreciative and excited to participate in the event. For some professos, particularly ones educated abroad, it was their first time being acquainted with Alpha Omega. It was great to expose them to AO in such a positive light. Dr. Sunica Travan won the Clinic Faculty award and Dr. Hal O’Kray won the Classroom Faculty Award, both given to reflect student’s appreciation for the energy and effort they have for teaching and the respectful, constructive methods they employ to facilitate our learning.

Fraternally,
Lindsey Steele
Chi Chapter
and two dental assistants from our office performed oral exams and made mouth guards for those Special Olympic athletes that came over to our area. We do this twice a year (in June in Mt. Pleasant and in November in Lansing) and have been undertaking this outstanding community service project since 2000 when frater Steven Perlman, an AO pediatric dentist from Boston, spoke to me about extending this event to Detroit. It was at that time that Mike Shapiro took over the program here in Detroit and the rest is history. Thanks to Mike, this event has blossomed and become an integral part of our chapter where we proudly help another human being in need. Tikun Olam at its finest.

And speaking of Tikun Olam, our Jewish Dental Clinic, a part of Project Chessed, has moved to the head of the class. How proud I am to be part of an organization that puts others' needs before ours. Thanks to Mickey Zuroff, Mark Luria, Margo Wall, and Roy Rosen for helping to organize this arrangement and an even greater thanks to the many of you who have helped make this project the success that it has become. The recent issue of the Detroit Jewish news says it all. This issue is the greatest PR for our Detroit Alumni Chapter ever. How wonderful for our Detroit Jewish community to know how dedicated our members are when it comes to helping people in need.

Our next international upcoming event is our convention in San Diego from Dec 25, 2010-Jan 1, 2011. For updated information, please see our fraternity web site: www.ao.org. There is still time for you to join in on the business and fun of AO. AO conventions are one of the best happenings in our fraternity family. Try it once and you're hooked. I will be pleased to represent our Chapter as its President along with the many members who will also be in attendance.

Don't forget to check our Detroit website: www.aodetroit.org for an ongoing update of our activities. Jamie Feldman does a superb job of managing the site. Thanks Jamie for your expertise.

Fran & I wish everyone a Happy Chanukah and a healthy, prosperous, and peaceful New Year.

Fraternally,
Marv Sonne

NEW STORE AT AO.ORG
A store is now on our International Website where you can purchase various AO items. Currently, the students are selling scrubs with proceeds going to the Chi Club of the AO Foundation. These quality scrubs are embroidered with the Alpha Omega logo and can include your name as well. Check them out at the new online store.
The November 2010 Polyhockey Games were a success in putting a smile on the faces of athletes, coaches and volunteers. To protect the smiles of the athletes, members of the Detroit Alumni Chapter, Alpha Nu and Chi were there with others to fabricate mouthguards. It is always a worthwhile, fun and rewarding event.

Nine DAC members participated, Nadine and Jeff Eder, Jamie Feldman, Michael Shapiro, Bob Share, Ester Sleutelberg, Marv Sonne, Alan Warnick, and Sam Zwetchkenbaum.

Alpha Omega student members from both local dental schools also joined the effort. From Alpha Nu was Jon Blatt, Rosealee Beredo and Chris Justema. Chi was well represented by Brent Fulks, Miran Forsyth, Taryn Weil, Jon Miller, Vincent Buscemi, Jody Altzmon, Hamed Firoozi.

Mark S. Isler, D.D.S., M.S. presented Soft Tissue Grafting and other Periodontal Treatment Modalities at the Sunday morning study club, December 19th. As usual, it was held at the Jewish Family Services Building in West Bloomfield. Mark is a recent graduate from the University of Detroit Mercy School of Dentistry and their graduate periodontal program.
In my nearly 40 years of being a member of the Detroit Alumni Chapter, I was never more proud than when I received the October 7th edition of the Jewish News. On the front cover was a giant mouth with a caption and story that went on to tell the heartwarming story of the DAC supporting and taking care of Metro Detroit’s Jewish dental patients in need through the Jewish Dental clinic. How proud all of us should be!

After approximately 18 months of seeing patients, we are beginning to see more dentists volunteering, more financial support, and a clinic that is slowly being updated with more modern equipment, supplies, and materials. It has not been an easy beginning, as all things worth their while take a lot of effort and perseverance.

However, while many AO dentists have committed their valuable time to the clinic, we are still in need of more dentist support if the clinic is to thrive. If you have not been at the clinic yet, we so need your help even if you only come once or twice a year! If every member of the DAC just came once a year for just three hours, we would have enough hours covered to meet the needs of the Detroit Jewish community. In addition, if you are retired and still maintain a current license, we are now able to pay for your malpractice insurance as long as you can work a minimum of 6 days per year.

If you are not able to work at the clinic, please consider making a donation to help support this important cause. Such a gesture can be just as important to the future of the Jewish Clinic as time spent there. Please feel free to contact me to address any questions, concerns, or if you would like to sign up at markluria@aol.com or 248-417-5286.

Finally, I want to share with everyone a portion of a letter that one of the Jewish dental clinic patients sent a DAC volunteer dentist. He concluded his letter by saying: “Obviously it is no secret that I have had my share of financial struggles. But I keep trying knowing that with G-d’s help I will turn things around. When my situation does improve, and I will be in a position to help others, I will remember you as a living example of how it is done. I greatly appreciate the lesson.”

Thank you Detroit Alumni Chapter for teaching a lesson to everyone around us of ‘how it is done!'
The clinic is a continuation of an idea that surfaced about seven years ago when a local attorney floated an idea to start a free Jewish dental clinic, said endodontist Dr. Mickey Zuroff of Southfield. The two, along with a group of dental professionals, did some research and met with Norman Keane, executive director of Jewish Family Service of Metropolitan Detroit, and Dr. Mark Luria of West Bloomfield, then-president of the Sinai Guild, private philanthropy of the Jewish community’s Jewish Fund, Yoskowitz said. “It is a mission-driven, not-for-profit, community free dental clinic,” Yoskowitz said.

The group also learned that a limiting factor was meeting the dental needs of the Chessed clients, Yoskowitz said. The dentists and Project Chessed came to an easy agreement. “I wanted the clinic to be privately run rather than part of the Project Chessed arm to keep it simplified,” Zuroff said. “They said OK as long as they could be our referral source. So we took the dental program off their hands.”

Attorney Michael Eizelman of Oak Park donated legal services in filing paper-work to form the clinic, which became a Michigan nonprofit, incorporated as an independent 501(c) (3) organization operating as a project of Alpha Omega.

“As an independent organization, it can schedule and arrange all needed follow-ups for the patients there,” Yoskowitz said. “It is a mission-driven, focused, one-stop location for dental care.”

A Pilot Project

To ensure the idea for a freestanding clinic for adult patients was feasible, a pilot project was conducted, with $30,000 raised by two anonymous community members. It began in February 2009 in Dr. Roy Rosen’s Southfield dental office, in space now leased for the clinic.

Volunteer dentists and hygienists spent several months screening 100 patients referred by Project Chessed. “Then we evaluated how many volunteers, days and materials we would need,” Zuroff said.

In August 2009, the clinic was opened to patients outside the pilot project.

“In planning for the clinic, we looked at role models in other cities and at community free dental clinics,” said Dr. Margo Woll of West Bloomfield, who first volunteered with Project Chessed and has been part of the dental clinic since the start.

The clinic opened with 60 volunteer dentists. “Practically all of them were AO members who had been part of Project Chessed,” Luria said. The clinic was immediately a resounding success,” Zuroff said. “We are now the source for all of Project Chessed’s dental patients.” Project Chessed does eligibility screening for its clients before they are referred to the clinic.

“Ambient in Project Chessed who is medically uninsured and has dental needs is given the phone number of the clinic,” Yoskowitz said. “People who already had a relationship with one of the dentists who volunteered at Project Chessed continued to see them there.”

The clinic also is open to Jewish patients who are not part of Project Chessed, but who have no dental insurance. “That includes many members of the Orthodox community whose shul rabbi may call us on their behalf,” Zuroff said.

“For non-Project Chessed clients, we have a private screening process that is done elsewhere by an independent screener,” he said. “Our criteria is the same as the guidelines followed by Yad Ezra [the Berkley-based kosher food pantry]. To qualify for Project Chessed, patients must have no medical insurance. Our screening does not make that a limiting factor.

“And we will direct patients that are not candidates for our clinic for various reasons — including that they may not be Jewish — to other clinics.”

A Single Site

The Jewish Dental Clinic is spearheaded by Zuroff, who maintains it follows “a team approach.”

An advisory board of dentists who have been with the clinic since its inception includes Luria, Rosen, Woll and Zuroff, along with Drs. Bruce Gursky of Bloomfield Hills, Michael Shapiro and Martha Zinderman, both of Farmington Hills, and Bob Share and Jeff Weinfeld, both of West Bloomfield.

The volunteer dental professionals rotate their schedules to keep the clinic running 21/2-3 days each week.

“The clinic is in the same building as my office, but it has a separate suite and is in a different suite with a separate waiting room dedicated to the clinic patients' use," said Rosen of Farmington Hills, who shares equipment from his private office with the clinic. Some of the clinic's supplies and materials have been donated by dental manufacturers and supply representatives.

"These are people who are going to get on their feet sooner or later," Rosen said. "We want them to have a normal visit. We don't want them to feel like we are squeezing them in and doing them a favor. Their self-esteem is very important. Just because there is no money involved, this is still a regular dental office and it is run that way."

For patients, there is an advantage to a single, centrally located clinic.
"Logistically, having all patients seen in one place makes a lot of sense," Rosen said. "Ninety percent of dentistry is general practice, so most patients can be seen in the same place, with the same equipment. It's not like medical care where more patients may need to be referred to a specialist."

Dental care professionals benefit also. "Having our own place rather than having patients seen in many offices allows volunteers to know they are giving a block of time to these patients," Zuroff said. "Some have partners who may not want to be part of it. In their own offices, they are 'doing something nice for someone.' Here they are part of a community project. And for the patients, there is dignity. They don't feel like they're getting charity, taking up someone's time in their office."

Supporting The Clinic

In May, Woll helped the Jewish Dental Clinic secure a three-year grant from the Jewish Fund, totaling $271,320, to assist with start-up operations.

"We suggested they hire someone to help with fundraising and an organizational consultant," said Margo Pernick, executive director of the Bloomfield Township-based Jewish Fund, established with proceeds from the sale of Sinai Hospital of Detroit in 1997. "There is a growing need for dental care for those with no insurance and the clinic can fill a void for those with low income. The Jewish Fund supports this opportunity to provide health care for those who can't afford it."

Zuroff said, "Alpha Omega has been very generous as well; and sometimes my own patients hear about the clinic and donate."

The cost of running the clinic is $5,000 a month. "The grant will allow for better efficiency and expansion," Zuroff said. "We have a waiting list of patients."

The hope is for the clinic to increase its hours to four days each week, which would also increase the operating budget. That also would involve a call for more volunteers.

"Even with the space and the grant, we can't expand our hours without more help," Rosen said. Zuroff said,
"The time involved for each volunteer is actually minimal to do such a big mitzvah. It takes only one three-hour block every other month."

Drs. Margo Woll and Mickey Zuroff

Zuroff hopes to increase the small core of paid staff, which now includes an office manager and Yelena Rozin of West Bloomfield, a hygienist-chair side assistant, who speaks Russian, as do many of the clinic's patients.
In addition to the volunteer clinic staff, volunteer specialists open their offices to see patients who need extra care.

"Volunteering at the clinic allows us to give back," Woll said. "A great part of working there is being with other professionals, working together, doing something good for our community."

"The Jewish Dental Clinic would not exist without the 310-member Detroit chapter of Alpha Omega," Luria said.

The local group is a chapter of the 103-year-old international, professional Jewish dental fraternity created by dental students to fight discrimination found in dental schools. Among its contributions, the fraternity has raised millions of dollars for the establishment of dental schools in Jerusalem and Tel Aviv.

Luria said, "In the 1980s, we treated Russian Jews who immigrated to Detroit, at no cost; and every year since 2000, we have been providing oral exams, fluoride treatments and making mouth guards for [local] participants of the Special Olympics.

"To be able to help patients through the Jewish Dental Clinic is a culmination of many individual projects we have been involved in and provides a continuity of dental care within the Jewish community.

"Practically all of the 80 dentists in the Jewish Dental Clinic are members of AO's Detroit chapter," Luria said.

Gratitude For Service

A group of (anonymous) patients stressed the benefits of the clinic, saying they would have no dental care without it; they expressed gratitude for the excellent treatment and respect received. "Dental care can be very expensive and very painful if you don't have it when you need it," said one patient. Another shared how the clinic gives me piece of mind," adding, "I love my teeth."

The clinic and Zuroff's volunteerism were inspired by his dad, the late Dr. Arnold Zuroff. "My father was the king of taking care of people who were in need," he said. "He was an endodontist who very, very often gave free care. So many people out there are doing it; this clinic allows us to come together." Also involved at the clinic is Sheryl Krohner, a dental hygienist from Oak Park, who is Zuroff's sister.

"In these hard times, there are more people who can't pay for dental care; but we are also seeing patients who, even in good times, never had it," she said. "Now the list is even longer.
I know it feels awkward for some patients to come to the clinic where they may know some of the volunteers, but everything is kept completely confidential. I've worked in other dental offices, but the thank-yous we get there are nothing like what we hear at the clinic."

Luria said, "The appreciation alone makes what we do worthwhile.
Some have been in pain for so long and didn't see a way out of it; they didn't think anyone would be there to take care of them."

Project Cheessed statistics show that between 5 and 10 percent of all Jewish households in Metro Detroit are with- out health insurance.

"We have a long way to go," Zuroff said. "We see us down the line being a model for other cities. Across the com- munity there are many who had dental insurance and lost their jobs. It's something that can happen to anyone. If this isn't the time to step up and be there for those less fortunate, then when is? It is our obligation."
Digital Practice Analysis

Over the last 9 years Henry Schein Dental Field Sales Consultants have trained in the business of dentistry. Our goal is to help our customers reach their goals. The Digital Practice Analysis is the first step in the process of reaching our goals. Once you know where you are, then you can map a route to where you want to go.

You might be surprised what questions your sales representative can answer.

Fee Analysis Summary

- What percentile are my fees?
- What percentile will insurance companies pay?
- How does my business compare in my zip code?

Fee Analysis

- If I raised my fees what would it do to my bottom line?
- Are low paying insurance plans worth my time?
- Can I raise my fees during these tough economic times?

Hygiene Department

- How is my Hygiene department?
- How many of my patients are active in Hygiene?
- How does Hygiene affect my production?

Periodontal

- What percentage of my patients are in our Perio program?
- Are we coding correctly for our perio procedures?

E4D

- What will CAD CAM do for my bottom line?
- How does my lab bill compare to the cost of an E4D?

Digital X-Ray

- Can I afford to go digital?
- What do I spend a year on standard x-rays?
- How long would it take for me to see an ROI if I go digital?

Call Mike Trautman @ 248-444-6505 to prepare you personalized Practice Analysis
Please be our Sunshine volunteer (can be shared with another person) All good news and get well news need to be shared. We all enjoy receiving a friendly note acknowledging an engagement, birth, anniversary or health issue. Please volunteer to comb through your Jewish News, etc. looking for AO’s celebratory /health news, receive calls from AO’s reporting such news and write “Sunshine Notecards”. The information is also published in our quarterly newsletter. Contact Gail at the AO office: 248-594-2262 or aodetroit36@comcast.net to volunteer.

AO SPECIAL REQUEST
Wanted AO Pin – Chi Chapter – original pin gone. Please contact Sy Berman at 248-851-8288

Retrieve Lost Life Insurance Premiums

- Are you age 65 or older with a life insurance policy of $100,000 or more?
- Are you paying too much for your current life insurance policy?
- Wish you could find a way to pay for a policy with other people’s money?
- Are you planning on discontinuing an existing policy?

If the answer is YES to any of the above, let us get you a SECONDARY MARKET APPRAISAL

- Recover some or all premium paid
- Get as much as 10x your current cash value back
- Reduce your present cost by up to 50%

Stuart E. Raider, CLU, ChFC
Peter M. Mendler, CPA, JD
Raider Dennis Agency
(248) 442-5000

Exclusive Upholstery Service

REUPHOLSTERING DENTAL CHAIRS
- Complete Reupholstering or Partial Replacement
- Finest Quality, matching Materials Available
- Convenient one day or Weekend Service
- Guaranteed Quality Workmanship
- References are Available

248-437-7007

Ready to meet all your insurance needs!
Offering high quality, confidential, personal service since 1977.

I’m committed to meeting your needs for the long term.
That commitment shows in everything I do.

Martin B. Rosenbloom, CLU, ChFC
5745 West Maple Rd., Suite 208
West Bloomfield, MI 48322
248-851-4455
mbrins@gmail.com

Serving Alpha Omega since 1977
GET WELL

Bernard Mazza
Richard Williams

GRANDPARENTS
Mark and Debra Luria

Please contact Gail (248-594-2262) to include your event

GOLDEN TRIBUTES
To: Mrs. Gary Berman and Family
In memory of beloved mother, Celia Glovinsky
From: Joel and Ellie Schaumberg

To: Drs. Michael and Lainie Shapiro
In memory of beloved mother, Toby Shapiro
From: John and Judy Marx
Stuart and Julie Raider
The Schaumberg Family
Marvin and Fran Sonne

To: Dr. Milton Goodman
In memory of beloved wife, Mae
From: Detroit Alumni Chapter

To: Dr. Mark Luria and Family
In memory of beloved father and grandfather, Dr. Harold Luria
From: Detroit Alumni Chapter
John and Judy Marx
Joel and Ellie Schaumberg and Family

To: The Family of Doris Feldman
Dr. Jamie Feldman and Dr. Terri Feldman
In memory of beloved mother, Doris
From: Rhoda Rosin
The Schaumberg Family

SPECIAL TRIBUTES
To: The Bakerman Family
c/o Joanne Kline
In memory of Herlaine Bakerman
From: Richard Williams

To: Mrs. Gary Berman and Family
In memory of beloved mother and grandmother, Celia Glovinsky
From: Detroit Alumni Chapter
Dick Williams and Carol Cooper

To: The Cohen Family
In memory of beloved mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Rose
From: Dick Williams and Carol Cooper

To: Dr. Steven Lash and Family
In memory of beloved mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Rose
From: Dick Williams and Carol Cooper
Detroit Alumni Chapter

To: Drs. Mark and Debra Luria
Congratulations on the birth of your grandson
From: Dick Williams and Carol Cooper

To: Dr. James Feldman and Dr. Terri Feldman
In memory of beloved mother, Doris
From: Lary and Myra Morton
Millie Moss
Detroit Alumni Chapter

To: Mrs. Leslie Moss
In memory of beloved sister, Lois Nichamin
From: Dick Williams and Carol Cooper
Detroit Alumni Chapter

To: Dr. Jack Pesis
In memory of beloved mother, Gloria
From: James Ginsberg
Randall Shaw
Alan and Nancy Simons
Detroit Alumni Chapter

To: Dr. Sol Pesis
In memory of beloved mother, Gloria
From: James Ginsberg
Randall Shaw
Alan and Nancy Simons
Detroit Alumni Chapter

To: Drs. Michael and Lainie Shapiro
In memory of beloved mother and grandmother, Toby Shapiro
From: Detroit Alumni Chapter
Richard Williams

To: Dr. John Marx and family
In memory of beloved mother, June Marx
From: Steven, Joyce, Jonathan, David and Michal Miller.
Detroit Alumni Chapter
Dick Williams and Carol Cooper

Crayle, Lillian (Pg. 18)
Home: 29260 Franklin Rd, #309
Southfield, MI 48034

Geller, Justin (Pg. 26)
Home: 711 Davis Avenue
Birmingham, MI 48009
Phone: 248-470-8126
Email: jgel739@mac.com

Lezell, Richard (Pg. 38)
Office: 400 S. Nelson, Potterville, MI 48876
Phone: 517-645-9980

Lipton, Jeffrey (Pg. 40)
Home: 3720 Newport Way
Waterford, MI 48329
Phone: 248-673-7888
Email: jssad@aol.com
Office City: Bingham Farms
Office Fax: 248-645 6389

Weiss, Norman (Pg. 66)
Home: 4260 Chicago Rd
Warren, MI 48092
Phone: 248-4962382

Welcome New Members

Bortman, Jennifer (Scheir) (Pg. 16)
(Jared)
Home: 833 Bennaville
Birmingham, MI 48009
Phone: 937-361-3619

Gallagher, William (Pg. 24)
110 Green Bay Rd, #101
Glencoe, IL 60022
Email: wgalla@umich.edu

Detroit Alumni members were honored at the Fall Paid-Up Dinner: Norm Weiss, John Cohen and Marshall Feurer received their Fifty Year Pins. Also receiving pins for 50 years of membership were Bert Faudem, Jay Richman and Jerome Winkler.
REMINDER
Please report any change of address (home or office) to the Alpha Omega office so that we may keep our mailing lists up to date.

WANT TO ASSOCIATE?  NEED HELP?
Call or write:
Jamie Feldman
21564 Grand River Ave.
Detroit, MI 48219
(313) 533-0202
email: dbafeldman@gmail.com

PHONE SQUAD UPDATE
As a reminder to our membership, if you should suffer the loss of someone in your immediate family, (spouse, parent, child, sibling), and would like to notify your fellow fraters, please call Gail at the AO Office 248-594-2262. The office is open Mon-Thurs. 9:30 am - 3:30 pm. At other times you may leave a message on the answering machine.

UPCOMING EVENTS
AO International Convention-San Diego
December 25, 2010 – January 1, 2011

Comedy Night
January 15, 2011

Study Club
Sunday, January 23, 2011

DETROIT ALPHA OMEGA NEWS
Official Publication of Detroit Alumni Chapter of Alpha Omega Fraternity Published four times per year.

Address all communications to the Editor:
Bob Lavine, c/o Alpha Omega - Detroit Chapter
P. O. Box 251304, West Bloomfield, MI 48325

Click out the online calendar for the latest information on this year’s events.
A detroitorg
For more news, photos, and member comments be sure to visit our website:

Address Correction Requested
West Bloomfield, MI 48325
P.O. Box 251304
Alpha Omega Fraternity
Detroit Alumni Chapter